

SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL.

VOL. XVII.

STANFORD, KY., TUESDAY, JANUARY 14, 1890.

NO. 96.

LONDON, LAUREL COUNTY.

—The members of the M. E. church, South, will have their parsonage completed in a short time. It is a neat, five-room cottage.

—The ten days' revival meeting conducted here by Rev. Steve Hildebrand closed Sunday night. There were 10 or 12 conversions.

—Austin Semman, a Swiss, and his two sons, were arrested and jailed Thursday, charged with house burning, but were acquitted at their trial Saturday.

—Leander McHargue, died at his father's, James McHargue, of pneumonia, last week. He had only been at his father's a few days, having come with his children from the West, where he had lost his wife a short time ago.

—The Frenches, after being held for several days for witnesses and repudiation papers, were taken to Newbern, Va. Pole was taken Friday morning and John Saturday morning. R. F. Morehead, the first witness who came, could not identify them, but in a few days Deputy Sheriff F. M. Farmer arrived with two witnesses, Charles Duncan and W. A. Feagles, who swore that Pole and John were the men indicted for the murder in Pulaski county, Va. Four men were implicated in the murder—John, Pole and Dave French, their cousin, and a man named Duntorf, who is yet at large. Dave was caught in 1882 and has served a term in the penitentiary, and John was captured about 10 years ago, but escaped from jail. They murdered a negro ferryman on New river, near Newbern, Va., April 2, 1872. They tried to force the negro to ferry them across the river when it was dangerously high, which he refused to do, and started to run, when one of them caught and held him and the other three riddled him with bullets. Pole French came to Perry county the same year, where he taught school and studied law for a year or two and then located in Harlan county, where he has lived ever since and has served one term as county attorney. John, it seems, was on the alert all of the time, having been in Canada part of the time, and it is said of him that he is well posted in "ways that are dark and tricks that are vain." But as far as I can learn Pole French has been a good citizen since he came to Kentucky and is well liked in the mountain counties. He is a good business man and it is said that he has made considerable money since he came to Harlan.

—How to SAVE MEAT.—Since it looks like farmers will have to kill their hogs without a cold season, the following from R. J. White, of Madison, which we clip from the Register, may be of profit to them, since Mr. White saved the meat of 40 hogs when his neighbors lost theirs. His plan is this and he guarantees success: "Take out the chine bone in the hams and the blade bones in the shoulders. Then rub the meat well with fresh salt and handle it every three or four days. Be sure to scald it. Do not bulk it. Shut up the meat house during the day, but open it and air the meat after midnight. Mr. White told us that he saved about 200 pounds every morning and saved the meat house until nearly day, watching it, of course to prevent thieving. He now has as much meat as was ever seen. He further states that the hams should be taken out of fresh meat anyhow. It causes the meat to get old and strong."

—THANKS.—The new pension agent for Kentucky is a relative of the editor of the Interior Journal. That fact of itself should satisfy the public that the appointment must be a good one.—Interior Journal.

Epoch

The transition from lung, lingering and painful sickness to robust health marks an epoch in the life of the individual. Such a remarkable event is treasured in the memory and the agency where by the good health has been attained is gratefully blessed. Hence it is that so much is heard in praise of Electric Bitters. So many feel that they owe their restoration to health to the use of the Great Alternative and Tonic. If you are troubled with any disease of Kidney, Liver, or Stomach, or long or short standing you will surely find relief by use of Electric Bitters. Sold at 50 cents and $1 per bottle at A. R. Penny's Drug Store.

The Pulpit and the Stage.

Rev. F. M. Shroat, Pastor United States Reformed Church, Blue Mound, Kan., says: "I feel it my duty to tell what we call Dr. King's New Discovery has done for me. My lungs were badly diseased, and my parishioners thought I could live only a few weeks. I took five bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery and my sound and well, gaining 50 pounds in weight."

Arthur Love, Manager Love's Funny Folk's Combination, writes: "After a thorough trial and convincing evidence, I am confident that Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption beats 'em all, and cures when everything else fails. The greatest kindness I can do my many thousands of friends is to urge them to try it." For trial bottles at A. R. Penny's Drug Store. Regular sizes 50 cents and $1.00.

Begg's Cherry Cough Syrup

Is giving splendid satisfaction the trade and the sales are positively marvelous, which can be accounted for in no other way, except that it is without doubt the best on the market. Ask for it and be sure you get the genuine. We keep it. A. R. Penny, Druggist.

LEGISLATIVE DOINGS.

—The Senate passed the bill prohibiting the sale of cigarettes to boys under 18 years of age.

—Mr. Settle has presented a bill to require all times to be paid to the trustee of the jury fund.

—The House spent a whole morning on the bill to prohibit the sale of cigarettes to minors and then quit where it began.

—It is generally conceded that this session of the General Assembly will be about as long as the last one.—Frankfort Argus. Good Lord deliver us!

—It is a very remarkable fact that the speakers of both Houses, Bryan and Myers, are from the same place—Covington, and both Clerks, Glenn and Keller, from Carlisle.

—A bill has passed the Senate authorizing the city of Louisville to provide pensions for the families of firemen and policemen who are killed while performing their duties.

—Judge Breckinridge has presented a bill to authorize the people of Boyle county to vote on prohibiting the sale of liquors, and fixing the penalty for the sale of liquors in said county.

—A bill to prevent the spread of hydrophobia by slaughtering rabid dogs and muzzling others was killed by numerous members including Carrard's, asking that their counties be excepted from its provision.

—Gov. Breckinridge withdrew the names of Thomas McRoberts, George E. Lee and Dr. John Powell for appointment as commissioners for the institution for the education of deaf mutes, but for what reason is not stated.

—Before the House is a bill to appoint fence viewers in each county, to consist of two magistrates and the county surveyor, who shall inspect division fences and complain of any owner and require same to put in good condition. The commissioners shall receive $2 a day each to be paid by the parties requiring their service.

—When Senator Breckinridge's bill providing for a special election and a five years' prohibition law for Boyle county reached the House, it struck a snag in the person of Mr. Thorne, who declared himself the unrelenting and undying enemy of prohibition. He said the people of Boyle county would be heartily sick of any prohibitory bargain long before the termination of the five years, and one of his amendments was to reduce the period to two years. The other was to save the expense of a special election. The bill was made a special order for Wednesday.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

There were two additions to the Methodist church Sunday—Miss Lulu Allen and Lee Roney, both of whom were baptized.

—Quarterly meeting will be held at the Methodist church on the 1st Saturday and Sunday and Rev. T. J. Godfrey tells us he intends it possible to follow it with a protracted meeting.

—The Methodist Sunday-school has a right to be proud of its start for the New Year. The attendance has increased nearly double and unusual interest is manifested. To Superintendent S. S. Myers a great deal of the credit is due.

—The Waco, Knoxville and Republican Baptist churches have again called Rev. Preston Blake for the ensuing year. As this is the third year's service upon which Rev. Blake enters for these churches, it speaks well for him and his work.—Richmond Register.

—Half of the week of prayer was observed in union services at Fleningsburg, but it came near resulting in a tragedy. The third meeting was held with the Methodist church and during its progress Rev. Mr. Hughes, of the Presbyterian church, was called on to pray. In the course of his invocation he introduced the articles of the faith of his church. He was interrupted by the Baptist minister, and on their knees, the two preachers fought over the doctrines of their respective Churches, while the congregation in confusion rose to its feet and crowded about the two combatants, who bombarded each other with Bible quotations, denominational arguments and sharp retort. A general fight seemed imminent, when the Methodist pastor took the pulpit. He denounced the proceedings in disgrace to the place, the occasion and the religion all present professed, and ordering the congregation out, he declared he would not permit such shameful scenes in his church. No more services were held at any of the churches during the week.

—The total dog tax collected last year was $53. The tax on playing cards amounted to $522.50.

—Engine Zimmermann is pushing a scheme whereby large locomotive works that will employ about 1,500 men are to be located in the vicinity of Cincinnati.

James T. Gott, Carmi, Ill., Says: "He paid thirty-one dollars doctor's bill for his wife in one year and one bottle of Bradfield's Female Regulator did her more good than all the medicine she had taken before. R. Hale, Druggist, Carmi, Ill. Write Bradfield Regulator Co., Atlanta, Ga., for particulars. Sold by Druggist A. R. Penny, Stanford.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

—Miss Leonora, daughter of David Y. Lytle, of Manchester, was married last week to Frank Milburn, of Louisville.

—Abraham Lincoln Lanham and Mrs. Sallie Kilron, a widow of 30, were married at Mr. George Pope's, at Rowland Friday.

—There are 8,000 more single women than single men in Massachusetts and the poor girls will have to seek husbands elsewhere if they ever enter the conjugal state.

—Two boy sniters for the hand of a young lady at Ashland, Kan., decided their fate by drawing straws. They agreed that the one who received the short straw should kill himself within 30 days. He tried to do so, but was unsuccessful, and declares that he will try it again.

—For the benefit of the young ladies who may be contemplating matrimony and want to commit it in paper style, we give the following description by the Louisville Times of the marriage of Miss Nellie, daughter of Judge Muir, and well-known here, to Mr. A. H. Smith, of Springfield, Ill. It was what is called a pink wedding, as the flowers and decorations were principally of that color. The ceremony took place in the rear parlor under a large canopy of snailax around which there was a deep fringe of lilies of the valley, orange blossoms and pink roses. Throughout the lower part of the house were placed innumerable growing plants, while banks of pink roses covered the mantles, giving to the whole the soft, dreamy appearance of some beautiful tropical place. There were no maid of honor or bridesmaids, but instead the bride was preceded by a little girl carrying a basket of flowers. The bridal party which passed through the front into the rear parlor, where the ceremony took place, consisted of a little boy and girl carrying two pink ribbons, thus forming an aisle through which the bride and her little flower girl passed. The little gentleman, besides the ribbon, carried a shepherd's crook of snailax and pink roses, while the little lady had a beautiful basket of pink roses. The rear ends of the ribbons were held by two other young misses who carried baskets of flowers. The music was furnished by Eichenhorn, and the wedding march was the grand bridal chorus from Lohengrin. One very beautiful idea was the rendition of the song, "Call Me Thine Own," on the harp as a solo.

The dress worn by the bride was a magnificent work of art, of heavy cream-colored silk, profusely covered with old pointed and duchess lace, which laces have long been heir-looms in the Muir family and are very old and rare. The bridal couple left after the ceremony for an extended trip through the West before returning to Springfield, where they will make their future home.

LANCASTER, GARRARD COUNTY.

—Miss Mary Brown died at the residence of Uncle Joe Blam, on last Friday.

—Our friend, Wm. Glass, slaughtered and packed 100 hogs in November and we regret to learn he lost almost all of the joints.

—The supervising board for this county have about completed their labors and found the assessor's list very complete and satisfactory.

—Mr. E. W. Spencer called the Knights of Pythias lodge from labor to refreshment last Friday night. About 30 members enjoyed an elegant lunch at his residence about 11 o'clock.

—The railroad commissioners were to have met here on the 10th to try some grievous complaints against the Kentucky Central, made by James A. Royston, but owing to the sickness of Mr. Shelby, the road's attorney, the meeting has been postponed.

—Tom Walker has returned from Middleboro, Col. W. D. Bradley was in London last week on legal business. Judge John F. Hager, of Ashland, member of the railroad commission, was registered at Miller's Hotel last Thursday. Robert Kinnard and R. E. McRoberts went to Middleboro Saturday night.

—It pleases us to note the favor and popularity crowding upon our handsome and winning young friend, John H. Welch, member of the legislature from Jessamine county. The honorable and unselfish concessions he made at the Lexington convention in '87, which nominated delegates to St. Louis, convinced us at that time he was destined to come to the front rank.

Humor.—Everywhere is a profusion of gay flowers, as were when Ponce de Leon discovered Florida in his search of a fountain whose waters would bestow perpetual youth on old age. Joel Walker sold his load of mules to Lee at $120 for 20 and $110 for the remainder. S. Hubble has returned from the South and reports good sales. J. C. Enbanks sold out and went to Columbus with L. Hutchings to assist him in selling out. James Floyd and McClure, of Casey, visited us last week. Brent Barnett and Joe Swope are the first ones to lose sheep by dogs this winter. Sam Engleman is fixing to enter suit against the Interior Journal for the value of his meat lost recently. His pleadings are that he was at Stanford and Mr. Walton hoisted the cold wave flag and he came home and killed hogs; the wave did not come as promised and his meat spoiled. He also pleads that while in Stanford he bought a winter suit, which he would not have done had it not been for the cold wave promised, and as it did not come he cannot wear it. Friends are trying to adjust the matter, but he will not unless he gets pay for his meat and money to buy a summer suit. A colored boy living at S. Dunbar's got his arm broken Sunday. Some parties went to S. Hubble's home-house last week and captured 30 chickens. They left a calico dress at the door to scare the foxes off till they could come again. Mr. George Bright is now ready to hear carpenter's bids on building his house.

People are very much pleased with R. C. Warren's manner of giving the whole county a vote on the liquor question instead of by precincts as some wanted and at a time when no politics agitates us. We are animated over the prospect for the temperance majority in the February election. The vote in the August election was no test of prohibition in this county. Let us lay aside all feelings and embarrassments heretofore caused by mixing prohibition with the politics of the day, and come to the front on the 15th of February and show our hand for the good of the country and by so doing teach the people that the question is only a moral one and as such will support it, and that its death can only come by pressing it into the political excitement of the day. We could not vote for prohibition in August for several reasons and will never under such circumstances, but on occasions like this, when it comes in the proper clothing for a moral issue, I will ever support it to the extent of my suffrage and influence, otherwise I will not pledge my support, all candidates for office being equal.

—Mrs. E. L. Page, at Ingersoll, Texas, astonished the natives by giving birth Friday to 4 well-developed children, all of which, with the mother, are doing well.

—Near Barlow City, this State, Miss Ida Barlow, daughter of a wealthy farmer, was taken suddenly ill and claiming to have camp colic, left the house and was gone two hours, when she returned and said she was better. Next day she assisted in the house work and three nights in succession attended hops and danced the greater part of the time. A woman who had had her suspicions aroused began an investigation, which resulted in the finding of a body, with its skull beaten to a jelly, in the weeds some 50 yards from the house. The coroner was notified, on learning which Miss Ida disappeared and is still in hiding. She is of Herculean build, being 6 feet high, and weighs 175 pounds.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For County Judge, THOMAS W. VARNON;
 " County Attorney, JOSEPH B. PAXTON;
 " County Clerk, GEORGE B. COOPER;
 " Sheriff, J. N. MENEFEE;
 " Jailor, SAMUEL M. OWENS;
 " Assessor, F. D. KENNEDY;
 " Supt. of Common Schools, W. F. McCLARY;
 " Surveyor, HARRY A. EVANS;
 " Coroner, ARCH CARSON.

Mr. MILTON H. SMITH, vice president of the Louisville & Nashville railroad, has laid before the legislature a calm, respectful and forceful communication relative to that portion of the governor's message, which charges that the railroads used every means, unlawful or otherwise, "to procure the enactment of a law abolishing the railroad commission, which had made known some of the wrongs committed by these corporations." Mr. Smith denies these charges and shows that the governor bases his remarks more on ex parte evidence than on the real facts. The railroad companies did favor the Thomas bill, which, while abolishing the commission, would not have relieved the companies of even stricter supervision by the courts of the country. And this bill, we will take occasion to remark, was endorsed by nearly every unprejudiced man in the state. It is rather cheap capital to abuse corporations and politicians have done so, so often and so effectively that the common people have almost embraced the idea that railroad companies are, figuratively speaking, gremlins, going about seeking whom they may devour. We believe in holding such corporations to the letter of the law, but we cannot and will not join in the thoughtless clamor against them simply because it is popular. Mr. Smith's communication is to the point and shows that he is as much at home with the pen as he is in successfully managing a great railroad.

M. D. HUGHES announces in the last issue of the Lancaster News his retirement from that journal, as he says, for "reasons best known to himself." We regret this for many reasons, among them the fact that he has furnished us more amusement than any editor in this section. He always took everything we said about him in dead earnest and the way he would wiggle and squirm when we would playfully threaten to punish him where it would do the most good, if he didn't behave, was enough to make a dog laugh. Bye-bye, old fellow, we hope it won't be long before you are ink-slinging again. Mr. R. E. Hughes, son of the late editor, who has shown much capacity in that line, will take charge of the paper.

As predicted, Calvin S. Brice was nominated on the 2d ballot for U. S. Senator from Ohio, receiving 53 votes against McMahon 13, his next highest opponent. The nomination was then made unanimous and one of the most tumultuous outbursts of enthusiasm ever witnessed at Columbus. The Ohio democrats are thoroughly united and intend that the State's electoral vote shall go to the democracy next time. Brice is a self-made millionaire, and while not a brilliant man is one of fine common sense and will make a good Senator. There could nothing be urged against him except that he is a very rich man, which was urged by the radicals for all it was worth.

The Cincinnati Enquirer's offer to give $100 to the mothers of living triplets in the States of Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky and West Virginia has already brought three sets to the front, including those of Mrs. Charles Bannay, of Richmond, Ky. The same paper offers a prize of $500 to every quartet of children in any of the four States who are all living, under the age of 5 years. The amount offered is hardly sufficient to make the women strive very hard to win it, but it will come in very handy to those who have already accomplished the remarkable feat of increasing the population so rapidly.

JUDGE W. D. KELLEY, known as "father of the House of Representatives," succumbed to the ravages of a cancer and passed peacefully into eternity Thursday night. He was nearly 75 years old and had served 24 consecutive years as a member of Congress from Pennsylvania, the longest uninterrupted Congressional life in history. A partisan of the strictest guild and an unalterable protectionist, he was yet a man of the purest character, respected by all who knew him and honored by the whole land.

The Courier-Journal doesn't mind blooming forth into 10 and 12 page editions any more than rolling off a log. But in the name of mercy we beg that it will let up. It was hard enough to get through with all the good things in its ordinary shape, now it is absolutely impossible before another issue arrives.

The Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee for this fall's elections, has already been organized and Gov. James B. McCreary has been selected to represent Kentucky on it. A better selection could not have been made.

HON. HARVEY WATKINSON, whose letters to the Courier-Journal signed "Old Fogey" are always read with interest, is in Washington again. In his initial letter he writes in this grateful and hopeful strain: "It was far from my thoughts 50 years ago, when I made my first visit to Washington, that I would be in the land of the living in the winter of 1889-90. But here I am, thank God, in a pretty good state of preservation for a man who has survived all the members of the Tennessee Legislature of 1835, and all the members of the 26th Congress, save one. My life has been a happy one. This world has treated me kindly, and such is my confidence in the goodness and mercy of the Great Being, who has put us all on this earth, that I am not afraid of the next."

JUDGE LILLY has nubbled the front with a defense of himself and a tirade on the governor, whom he accuses of trying to run the judiciary as well as the executive branch of the government. The judge admits that he is afraid some of lawless factions will perforate his diaphragm if he attempts to hold courts in certain counties, and consequently he does not hold them. A judge who goes about his duty and attempts to it is rarely the mark of a bad man's bullet. Judge Lilly seems to be singularly lacking in backbone and unless the flimsy rag which he now carries in its stead can be starched and stiffened a bit, he ought to be invited down and out. In other words, let Judge Lilly either shoot or hand over the firearm.

The colored man, Trotter, whom Mr. Cleveland made register of deeds in the District of Columbia, has at the request of Mr. Harrison sent in his resignation and his successor will be named in a few days. This is the office to which Mr. Gentry, our colored statesman, aspired and it may be that the president intends to give it to him. We would not, however, advise him to resign his still-house job till he knows for certain what Mr. Harrison will do. Mr. Trotter has made $40,000 out of the office in 2 years and 10 months and a bill is before Congress to make it a salaried one.

While hunting ducks in Virginia President Harrison blazed away and killed a farmer's pig, and now there is talk of having him brought back and subjected to fine and the confiscation of his fowling piece for violation of the law against a non-resident killing duck below tide water. It would be a funny sight to see the president of the United States in charge of a constable on their way to a magistrate's court. And yet in this democratic country such a thing is not impossible. The president has no more right to break a law than the humblest citizen.

GEN. SAM HILL, adjutant general, has announced himself a candidate for Congress in the 4th district, believing doubtless in the old adage that the early bird catches the worm. The prospect is tho', that the worm will be pretty hard to catch since Montgomery is certain to be a candidate for re-election and Ex-Marshal Gross seems to have designs on the office. There is going to be a lively fight, and since Gen. Hill has forced the issue, it will begin at once.

The Richmond Register says Gov. McCreary is outspoken in his opposition to the second edition of the salary grab, known as the Silcott reinforcement bill, and, although a loser himself, will never consent to its passage. We do not see how any honest man can be for the bill. If the amount cannot be made out of freedom and hissecurities, the government surely ought not to be called on to pay the money again.

You are mighty right, Col. Hull. The Interior Jones v. is as happy as a big snailflower over the appointment of Mrs. Courts to be postmaster here and we hereby withdraw anything of no complimentary nature we may have said of Bros. Harrison and Wamamaker. They are gentlemen and scholars and fine judges of the kind of women out of which to make postmasters.

An enthusiastic and largely attended convention of the citizens of Cumberland Valley was held at Somerset last week, when resolutions urging liberal appropriations for the Cumberland river were adopted and a committee appointed, consisting of prominent men from several counties, to convey them to Washington and lay them before Congress.

The editor of the Louisville Critic, Mr. Dan E. O'Sullivan, had to go to New York for a week or so, leaving Mr. Charles Price to attend to his editorial duties in his absence. The last issue was gotten out by him with marked credit to himself and to his employer, who is noted for hitting every head he thinks deserves it.

We have been asked very often the origin of the word "anagosty," but until now we could not give it. The Frankfurt Capital says that Eugene W. Newman, the sagacious Savoyard of the Louisville Times, is the father of it and we will add no offspring ever had worthier parentage.

A brother of the young lady whose pretty name of Betty was transformed into Betty by the Louisville Times' type machine, is after the editor with a shot gun. The whole force deserves to die for such a mistake.

We are glad to observe that the Courier-Journal has taken up the cudgel against the iniquitous parole law, which is turning out upon society without reason convicts, who were after great expense and trouble given sentences inadequate for the offenses they committed. The release of Tom Stringer from Laurel, is sufficient to condemn the law if there were not other objections. He was given only two years for murdering a negro and yet he is not permitted to serve out but six months of that short time. Stringer, no doubt, thought he was doing well to save his neck, but the commissioners evidently think he was a poor, persecuted individual, who merely killed a negro with but little provocation.

The Harrodsburg Democrat has a well-written article advocating high license as the means of reducing and curtailing the growing evils of whisky drinking in that town. If local option could be properly enforced it would prefer to see that the law, but experience has shown how utterly short of the object aimed at it fell during the years of its trial. The editor, therefore, very sensibly prefers the benefits of a law, that public sentiment will cause to be enforced to a re-trial of one that can not be so enforced.

The judges and some lawyers are raising their hands in holy horror over what they term an invasion of the judiciary by the executive department of the government, and are thus trying to offset the good of that portion of the governor's message calling attention to certain directions and shortcomings of a couple of judges. The judiciary is far from being infallible, and we are glad to record that we have a governor courageous enough to tackle anybody or anything, when it is deserved.

The honor of receiving the vote of every member of the legislature present—115—for public printer and binder, is enough to turn the old bald head of Col. E. P. Johnson, if it were not made of sterner stuff. Even the republicans were anxious to compliment him and joined with the democrats making his vote the largest ever given to an officer elected by the legislature. The press of the entire state is profoundly grateful for this distinguished mark of respect for their beloved president.

The committee on banking and currency are favorably impressed with the proposition to issue two per cent bonds to run 50 years for the special use of National banks to secure circulation. These bonds would be sold at par and would be a great saving to the banks which now have to pay a premium of 25 per cent, and more for 1 per cent bonds for the same purpose. The two banks here would save $1,000 each a year and the government would not lose a cent.

AFTER an exciting contest, requiring two sessions and 11 ballots, Mrs. Mary Russell Day was nominated for librarian, showing up with 73 votes on the final ballot, to 43 for Ed Porter Thompson, who alone staid with her to the last. Mr. Thompson has made the best librarian the State has ever had, and should have been the nominee, but it is mighty hard for the average Kentucky man to refuse the appeal of a widow, especially if she is both handsome and qualified.

The Frankfort correspondent of the Louisville Times is shedding great big tears because, as he alleges, the convicts are fed on rotten meat and not enough of it at that. It would take more than the word of a convict or a much better man to make us believe that the gentlemen who lease the penitentiary would treat those in their charge inhumanly, for we have known some of them ever since we knew anything and are confident that they have been maligned.

It is with deep regret that we see him leave and we believe the regret is shared by many friends here, who have come to regard him very highly for the honorable and high-toned manner he has conducted himself and his business. He will bear with him to the "Golden Coast" the good wishes of everybody here, whose respect is worth having, for his speedy restoration to health and an immediate step into a prosperous business.

CITY AND VICINITY.

Harness and saddles cheap at T. Metcalf's.

LIVERCOATS, cloaks and heavy boots at cost at S. L. Powers & Co's.

FOR COLD in the head snuff equal parts of loaf sugar and pulverized alum. It is a good remedy we know from experience.

TO LET.—The contract to build a pavement from the Court-House to Main street. Call on Judge T. W. Varnon for specifications.

LA GRIPPE has struck Rowland and a number of brakemen, conductors and engineers were unable to go out on their runs yesterday.

"A FREEZING cold wave" was then Greeley's dispatch last evening to this office. He seems to be sure he has the grip on it this time.

RANNEY & ALLEN are figuring on the cost of the handsome residence Mr. G. P. Bright will build on the site of the one he recently lost by fire.

THE body of Conductor Cahler was exhumed Friday to find the bullet which caused his death. It was discovered that it had penetrated the backbone. His cowardly murderer is still at large.

MRS. COOKERS was treated to a serranade Friday night, which she acknowledged in a nice note of thanks, and excusing herself for satisfactory reasons from making a speech. It was a neat compliment worthily bestowed.

A PETITION is in circulation here asking our representative to have that portion of the city charter, which limits the issue of liquor license to hotel keepers, be amended so as to permit anyone who desires to do so, to take out license on paying for it and giving bond to keep an orderly house. The council agreed some time ago to fix the license at $500, but we trust if the right to sell is voted they will increase the amount to $1,000.

FIFTEEN pounds of nice brown sugar for $1. S. S. Myers.

If you want a hatching stove cheap, call on me. T. Metcalf.

ALL those who wish to supply themselves with that very "poetry of soap," the Physicians and Surgeons, for the toilet, will find it in the absence of the agent at Severance & Son's, headquarters for all choice materials.

SUNDAY was a regular May day with the mercury up to the 70s. People could not be held in doors, but were out enjoying the balmy breezes and delighting their eyes with the rich verdure with which the blue-grass hills are clothed.

THE ninth order to hoist the cold wave signal was received yesterday, with the prediction that the temperature would fall to 24 by this, Tuesday, morning. It was pretty chilly yesterday and the chances were far for a verification of the prediction.

PETE HAMPTON gets off a good thing occasionally. The other night Mr. Alford, who is in the courthouse on the post-office, went into his store and complained of feeling badly. "I believe," said he, "I have the grip." "You're wrong about that, Ben," said Pete, "Mrs. Courts has it and don't you forget it."

THE examining trial of Thomas Estes, for the killing of his step-daughter, Miss Annie Bowman, will occur before Judge Varnon here at 10 o'clock Wednesday. The claim that the killing was accidental seems probable. Mr. Estes has been frantic since the sad affair and has to be watched to prevent him taking his own life.

THE heavy wind of Saturday night blew down the Lexington-Jacksonville flag pole for the display of the weather signals—a sort of a judgment we suppose sent to stop its lying. It had floated eight cold wave signals this season, not one of which was verified. Like Annam, it was stricken down for prevaricating.

THE wind, rain and hail storm Sunday night was quite severe, but we have heard of no special damage that it did in the country. Some of the signs in town were blown down, including that of the "New York Store." The latter was on the establishment of Mr. J. R. Alford and had been there a quarter of a century or more.

THE postoffice department has gotten onto the fact that its appointee at Shelby City, Mr. Coppage, is an ex-convict, and pending investigation his commission has been held up. The appointment was made on the recommendation of Judge Finley, who claims that he did not know the true state of affairs. Mr. S. W. Duck will get the office.

IS attempting to set the brakes on his wagon, which was rushing on the horses, Dave Allen, of the West End, was thrown out and received a bad cut on the forehead from a rock he struck in the fall. He was bringing a load of potatoes to this place to ship to Middletown, but the kick so dazed him that for a while he forgot his errand and was on the eve of returning when he came to.

JOE SANDLER, the bustling real estate agent at Middletown, has more confidence in the future of that place than any of its enthusiastic advocates. He says that he wants his prediction marked that within 18 months lots on Cumberland avenue, between 19th and 23d streets, will sell at $1,000 a foot. We shall see how much of a prophet the side-whiskered man from Lancaster proves to be.

PINEVILLE has started on another boom. It is said that the Menon and Louisville Southern people have purchased 18,500 acres of rich coal and timber land near there and that the latter road will soon be built to that point. The deal involves an investment of $200,000 and Mr. T. H. C. Vane, president of the Pine Mountain Iron & Coal Co., says he has sold $100,000 of lots in the last week. A large factory is projected and a new England Company is said to be preparing to erect 1,000 coke ovens. Some of the largest real estate dealers of Middletown have gone over to Pineville and become large purchasers. The prices of lots now range from $30 to $75 per front foot.

PHOTISTS and demands to be heard on no figure in the appointment of Mrs. Fokie Courts to be postmaster at Stanford, and the Senate confirmed it without a word, as we were confident it would. We are magnanimous enough to admit that Lawyer Davison is a man of many parts, but the fact that he is chairman of the republican committee in a democratic county in democratic Kentucky does not make him very potential with the powers that be. We understand that they will now fight against the issuing of the commission, but it will be like a certain performance of the Apostle Paul, which if our memory serves us right, was exceedingly futile. The sentiment is almost unanimous for Mrs. Courts now and those who are fighting her are not improving their standing in the community. Mrs. Courts has the appointment and will hold it, you may rest assured of that. She is capable and deserving, has the confidence and respect of everybody and will, we are sure, make an officer that will give the most entire satisfaction. She won a famous victory and she must receive its benefits.

COLUMBUS buggy and several chairs for sale by T. R. Walton.

THE Act to re-submit the question of prohibition to the people of this county has passed both Houses and is now the law. The election is set for February 15 and the bill provides for an election every three years on the question if not less than 500 qualified voters so petition.

—B. B. Glover bought of S. A. Middleton and other East End parties 26 head of fat cattle at 3 cts.

—Sam Owens bought of John Hill 3 head of 300-pound hogs at 34 cents, as per contract made several months ago.

—W. T. Jones bought of various parties in the county 52 head of cattle at 2 to 24 cents; also 50 hogs at 34 cents. —Lexington Journal.

—Tennessee's Commissioner of Agriculture estimates that the loss of meat to the farmers of that State by the long continued warm weather, will amount to at least $50,000.

—Col. James Morris has bought during the past week 70 cattle, feeders and yearlings, extra good ones, at $3.30 and 100 hogs weighing from 125 to 150 lbs., at $3.35.—Midway Clipper.

—The Bowling Green Democrat says that Womack & Nicoll have purchased 234 mules in the last month at a cost of $31,237. Among the purchases were 50 from J. L. McGhee, 15 hands, for $6, 1007, and 32 of J. S. McGhee, 144, for $5,035.

—W. L. Caldwell & Son sold a 2-year-old jack to Ballard, of Garrard, for $675.

G. B. Woodcock sold two car-loads hogs in Cincinnati at 34, considered a top price. The assessor's books show the taxable property in the county to be $6,301,917.—Advocate.

—Gov. James G. Givens tells a reporter: "Eight months ago I bought about 11,000 acres of land on the left hand side of Straight creek, in Bell county, and on yesterday I turned the property over to a syndicate of gentlemen for $110,000. I am not at liberty to say who the purchasers are, as it might interfere with their plans. The property is coal and timberland and I think the most valuable in that section."

—L. M. Lasley leaves to-day for Nashville with nine horses to train for the spring campaign. One 4-year-old by Leopold, dam Blanche J. by Imp. Australian; three 3-year-olds, Imp. Wood Moss, Vedana, and Elsie Gaylord, five 2-year-olds, one by Longfellow and 4 by Congregan. He thinks his 2-year-olds are better than the average at this time of the year and we could see that he was particularly sweet on the Longfellow, and the Congregan colt out of the dam of Silence.

—Macey Bros.' mammoth stable at Versailles caught fire about 4 o'clock, Saturday morning and when discovered had progressed so far that none of the valuable stock it contained could be gotten out. Bell Boy, the noted $51,000 stallion, burned, with 40 others, making the entire loss on horses, stable and fixtures $150,000. Several other adjoining houses and residences were also destroyed, running the total loss to $200,000. The insurance is small. The owners of Bell Boy, Clark & Hopper, had recently refused a bona fide offer for him of $102,000. He was to have stood this season at $500 and 35 mares had already been booked.

—The Harrison administration was in power during 10 months of the calendar year 1889. The decrease of the public debt for the year was, in round numbers, $81,000,000, against $91,000,000 in 1888 and $119,000,000 in 1887. There has been no reduction of taxation, but, on the contrary, a steady increase in the amount of revenue collected.

—A horrible accident in the river opposite Louisville resulted in the loss of 14 lives. Eighteen men were in a caisson under 30 feet of water, at work on the proposed Louisville and Jeffersonville bridge, when, owing to the ignorance or carelessness of the gang-master, the caisson suddenly filled with water and sand, and the men were instantly submerged. Only four succeeded in fighting their way up the ladder and escaping, the others—five white and nine colored—suffering almost immediate death.
